- What makes Loma Linda Academy unique Since being founded in 1906, we`ve had more than 100 years to fine-tune our educational offerings and build a school that offers a truly exceptional Christ-centered education. The ingredients are simple: a Bible-based curriculum, the latest technology, interactive teaching strategies driven by cutting-edge scientific research, and a safe and secure environment where all abilities and talents are honored and accepted.
- Loma Linda Academy is the largest Seventh-day Adventist K-12 school in the United States. It has attracted some of the finest educators in the system and supports beautiful facilities. Loma Linda Academy`s resources have given students more opportunities for growth and success. Because of its proximity to Loma Linda University, the Academy has enjoyed a strong relationship that has helped to enhance the schedule of mathematics and science courses. It is not surprising that more Loma Linda University medical students claim Loma Linda Academy as their alma mater than any other secondary school. The Academy`s size also contributes to the exceptional strength of its music and sports programs. The school maintains a family atmosphere with an active Home and School organization. Parents often support activities on and off campus. The competitive student-teacher ratio and an average class size of 25 students, promotes an active learning environment. Loma Linda Academy provides a space for healthy spiritual, academic and physical development. When students graduate, they are well prepared for the college environment.
- Outstanding Academics:
 - SAT scores at Loma Linda Academy are well above national averages.
 - Each year, 99%+ of the graduating class are college bound.
 - Graduates have attended such prestigious universities as Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Pepperdine, Stanford, USC, UCLA, Loma Linda University and private Seventh-day Adventist institutions.
 - Many of our graduates go on to pursue degrees in medicine, dentistry and other health professions. Loma Linda Academy is proud to have the only National Merit Finalist in the Loma Linda/Redlands area for 2013.
 - Of our 87 certified teachers and administrators, all have a minimum Bachelor`s degree, 39 have Master`s degrees, and 7 have Ed.D., Ph.D. or Ed.S. degrees
- Christ-Centered Training:
 - Loma Linda Academy provides spiritual leadership to students from kindergarten through high school with the support of a full-time campus chaplain.
 - The Campus Ministries Student Leadership Program at Loma Linda Academy has served as the - Computer, art, music, P.E. and library activities begin in kindergarten with class rotations at the elementary level.

- Loma Linda Academy Athletics boast three gymnasiums and expansive playing fields. Loma Linda Academy athletic coaches create opportunity for athletic character building in a Christian context.
- Loma Linda Academy's music program attracts the very best young musicians with international touring groups for band, choir and strings.
- We offer lessons for every wind and percussion instrument in a symphonic band. We are fortunate to have some of the best performers and professional music educators on our private music staff.
- The school newspaper has won numerous awards such as best newspaper, best photography, best layout and design, and best news writing in high school publication competitions. Our nationally-recognized Technology Integrated Education program takes students with interest in engineering through specialized training.
- A special Lego robotics class is offered for students in 4th through 8th grade.
- Unique classes from culinary arts to organic chemistry allow students to tailor their education to their interests and goals.
- We offer honors and AP classes designed to prepare students for the demands of college.
